About SCCG

In January 1999, a small group of Compliance Officers formed a group with the intent to provide a meeting place for Southern California compliance professionals to openly discuss common compliance concerns.

Currently the group has grown to over 125 and encompasses compliance professionals in San Diego, Orange, Los Angeles and Ventura Counties.

SCCG has elected officers, committee chairs, and is filed with the IRS as a non-profit organization. Members meet on a quarterly basis to discuss regional and current compliance and legal issues.

SCCG continues to expand its membership and the quality and depth of the information presented. To this end, SCCG operates and continually enhances a website, offering valuable, industry-focused content and networking opportunities available exclusively to SCCG members.

Quality Information

SCCG quarterly meetings are available to all members and we invite anyone interested to attend one meeting as a guest. We have meeting locations in La Jolla, Newport Beach, El Segundo and Pasadena, with lunch included. Each meeting features a regulatory update, well known industry guest speakers and members addressing new rule releases, proposed regulations and industry best practices followed by an open forum discussion allowing you to connect with local members. We encourage our members to participate at our meetings by presenting or discussing topics of interest and sharing ideas with each other. A complete roster of current members is available to each member, via the website, along with supplemental information and detailed minutes of each quarterly meeting. SCCG also provides a valuable venue for exchanging job opportunities and a LinkedIn group to connect with other members and discuss current issues in a private forum.

Employers seeking to recruit compliance professionals may contact SCCG for advertising information.

SCCG member privacy is protected. Member identification is provided to active SCCG members for networking purposes only and is not provided to non-affiliated third parties.
